

VEERANS UNION "GIMLET" IS UP THE OLD FLAG

Men of the Fading Battalions
Have Patriotic Outing at Wandamere.

JUDGE A. J. WEBER
TALKS OF STARRY BANNER

Tells His Hearers of the Everlasting Principles the Flag Represents.

As guests of the Sons of Veterans and the auxiliary, Daughters of Veterans, and the Relief corps and circles, members of the local G. A. R. posts celebrated Flag day at Wandamere Tuesday. The old soldiers spent the most of the day at the resort, renewing old acquaintances, talking over the old days and having a general reunion in patriotism. Because the day is one that calls forth patriotic thoughts and sentiments, the veterans and the old ladies—and the young ones—spent the day in an environment of patriotism.

A luncheon was served by the ladies in the evening in the pavilion under the dance hall. There was everything served that the season affords, the supply was abundant, and ample justice was done to the good things provided.

Following this, a brief programme was carried out in the dance hall. The hall is not suitable for such exercises, both speaking and singing is difficult, and the hundreds who crowded around the "suspended stand" had to remain standing. This programme was called "The Starry Banner" by the direction of H. E. Dewey, commander of the Sons of Veterans, who recently succeeded to the post.

Webster Talks Patriotism.

Judge A. J. Weber was the orator of the occasion, and while he spoke briefly, he was eloquent. He said he was much pleased to see that Governor Spry had issued a proclamation calling for flag day. He said, "From the lack of flags in their hall today. It is a beautiful day, and a beautiful custom, and it is fitting that the city should observe it. The flag should issue that proclamation and that once a year Old Glory should be swung to the breeze. I was born in 1835, and on June 14, that that flag was born. It was the good old flag that represents the best people when the government on earth. Along in the latter part of May, Washington sent his rough sketch of the flag to Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, and in a few days Mrs. Ross made the first American flag."

What Flag Represents.

After giving a brief history of the flag, Judge Weber said they still had the thirteen stripes, but in addition they had forty-six stars, indicating forty-six indelible states in an indelible union. While the United States was one of the youngest nations on earth, he asked them if they ever stopped to think that it was the oldest flag on earth. It has gone through more battles with more credit and glory than any other flag in the world. It represented the history of the nation. It represented the flag of Washington, of Jefferson and of Jackson. It represented the martyrdom of Lincoln and Garfield and the heroes of the Civil War. It represented the laws of the government; it represented the great principles that in addition to the declaration of independence was written by Thomas Jefferson. It represented equality before the law; it represented the idea that government only derived its first powers from the consent of the people. "And that flag," continued the speaker, "in its folds, contains all the greater idea or principle than all these mentioned, and that is absolute liberty to the individual in the exercise of his rights upon the liberty and rights of any one else." In closing, Judge Weber enjoined his hearers to keep the faith with the flag and the flag would protect them.

Some Pretty Music.

Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris gave a beautiful rendition of "The Starry Banner," and Mrs. T. W. Hutton recited with much elocutionary power, "The American Flag." A patriotic and pretty rendition of "The Starry Banner" was given by Miss Ella Pitt, and a clarinet solo was played by Mr. Love.

The exercises in the dance hall, though brief, were much enjoyed by all who participated. At the close of the programme dancing was indulged in for several hours.

Young Fowler was on the "Gee-Whiz," one of the several side affairs at the resort to separate visitors from their money when a man who was on the machine fell off and landed on his back, his foot out to save himself from falling and caught young Fowler, throwing the lad and injuring his right shoulder blade and cutting his left hand. The boy was picked up and a doctor was called who attended to his injuries.

Runs Story on Murder Trial.
Which Court Says Is Contempt.

IF CONVICTED, MANAGERS
CAN BE SENT TO JAIL

District Attorney Directed to File Papers and Investigate Matters.

The hypnotized sheet of the Federal bench, sometimes called the Herald-Republican and more familiarly known as the "Gimlet," has again been caught in its disreputable course and the members of the gang that controls its policies will be cited before Judge Lewis of the district court to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court in publishing in its issue of June 14 the signed confession of Harry Thorne, who, with Thomas Riley, alias James Hayes, is charged with the murder of George W. Fassel, in this city on March 26 last.

The trial of Riley and Hayes was commenced before Judge Lewis on Monday and the work of conducting a jury has progressed rather slowly during the past two days. By the publication at this time of the Thorne confession which also implicates Riley, the Gimlet crowd went a little beyond its scope and Judge Lewis is of the opinion that such an act is contempt of court of the district court. On Tuesday instructed District Attorney Looftbourrow to prepare the necessary papers citing the publishers of the sheet to appear before the court and defend the charge of contempt. District Attorney Looftbourrow will prepare the papers today and the Herald-Republican Publishing company and those responsible for the contempt will have to face the court.

Had Not Read It.

Soon after the morning session of court Judge Lewis asked Attorney James D. Pardee, who is defending Riley, if he had read the story in the morning issue of the Herald-Republican. Of course Mr. Pardee admitted that he was like a great many other people in this state and had not been guilty of reading the paper mentioned. Judge Lewis then adjourned court long enough to permit the attorney to read the article in question and when court reconvened, Mr. Pardee immediately asked for a continuance of the case and a change of venue on the ground that the publication of the confession had greatly prejudiced the interests of his client and he could not have a fair and impartial trial in this county. Court then adjourned until 2 o'clock to prepare a formal motion and affidavit for continuance and change of venue.

At that hour, the affidavit of Riley setting forth the publication of the confession of Thorne and a copy of the paper containing the same were read into the evidence and argued by Attorney Pardee. The motion was granted and the district attorney and Judge Lewis denied it for the present, but indicated that if it was later that the jury had been examined had been influenced by it he would permit the attorney to renew his motion for a continuance at least.

Judge Lewis's Comments.

In commenting on the matter at the afternoon session of court Judge Lewis stated that the publication of that confession on the day of the trial and while the jury was being selected was a serious matter and could not be overlooked by the court. He declared that it was his duty to see that the jury was selected from the pool of jurors yet to be selected by the court would instruct the district attorney to bring the proper proceedings against the papers responsible for the publication of the article, and that he would permit the attorney to renew his motion for a continuance at least.

May Go to Jail.

Under the statute the punishment for contempt is a fine of not more than $200 or imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days or both such fine and imprisonment.

Out of the eleven jurors examined in the Riley trial Tuesday only one additional juror was selected to try the case. The jury secured on Tuesday is David Neff, a stockman of Mill Creek. The jury secured on Monday is Joseph M. Silvers, a building contractor of this city. All of the other jurors examined Tuesday were excused on account of bias and prejudice, and the excused jurors who were challenged peremptorily, one by the state and the other by the defense.

L. P. Robinson created a little disturbance in court by his conduct. He was excused from jury duty. He insisted in telling the court that he had read all about the case and had expressed an opinion and had to be quieted by a deputy sheriff. Judge Lewis finally excused him for business reasons, he being a druggist.

STORIES OF TRIFLITY.

Two men held equal positions with the same concern. There was a dispute as to who was the owner of the business and they both entered the business. Both men were clean, capable and honest. One spent his salary freely, had nothing ahead. The other saved regularly each silver and had a substantial bank account.

When the management looked into the merits of the two men both showed up with equal merit, but—

Adams had more money and Jackson hadn't. Adams was taken into the business.

It takes character to save money—self-denial and considerable courage. And you can't have character when you save money.

Saving means future accomplishments. A snug sum to draw on is a strong companion when opportunity comes along. We pay four per cent on deposits, compounding interest every six months.

GENERAL COMMITTEE
DISCUSSES THE MATTER

Excellent Programme Is Now Being Arranged for the Occasion.

The general committee having in charge the safe and sane celebration of Independence day met at the Commercial club Tuesday night and decided definitely on the principal features of the day's programme. Contrary to expectations there will be no parade, the committee agreeing that there was hardly time to prepare for this important feature.

The greater part of the programme will be carried out at Liberty park. Beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 10:45 o'clock, a grand band concert of patriotic airs will be given. Immediately after this, the beautiful ceremony of raising the flag will be performed by ten little girls.

At 11 o'clock will be commenced the musical and literary programme, as follows: Invocation; song, "The Starry Banner"; reading of the declaration of independence; pledge of allegiance; song, "Our Flag," by a chorus of children; song, "Flag Without a Star"; address of patriotic airs; singing of "America."

In the evening there will be a magnificent display of fireworks, many from Capitol Hill. A day sum was set apart by the committee for this purpose and a contract will likely be signed today with some company of recognized standing to handle this feature. A provision of the contract will likely call for the sending by the company of an expert to supervise the discharge of the fireworks.

Pledge of Allegiance.

The pledge of allegiance, which is a part of the musical and literary programme of the morning, will be given at a general public gathering in Salt Lake City for perhaps the first time. The words of this pledge follow: I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible, with justice and liberty for all.

Among the features for the day, which have been tentatively decided on, are a balloon ascension and sports for the children in the afternoon. The committee, Carl A. Badger, chairman, invites the public to participate in the ascension of a parachute jump, on that day. It is likely that match basketball and baseball games will also be arranged as part of the afternoon sports.

Use of Explosives.

Considerable discussion was had by members of the committee with regard to the proper use of explosives on Independence day. A resolution was passed to the effect that the mayor be requested to see that the ordinance be strictly observed with regard to not allowing the use of firearms and other kinds of explosives before and after July 3 and after midnight of July 4.

Present at the meeting Tuesday night were Carl A. Badger, Colonel E. A. Wedgwood, J. E. Colne, C. J. Freund, E. F. Redman, Miss Ethel Palma, Mrs. Mary P. Loomis, E. P. Mudge and D. R. Coombs.

Begin the new, renew the old. The planets many favors hold.

Jupiter rules as the greatly fortunate planet. Mercury and Mars stand in position of great favor. All indications are auspicious in any and every endeavor, be the task great or small.

The two needs of the period are for courage and generosity of purpose. Almost all the indications of the shadowy behind the bright aspects are likely to come from passion, quick temper and unkindness.

Commerce and industry should prove to be equally favored. There is a sign of things to come from underlings, but the time is not ripe for opening new places of business, enlarging, altering and removing, instilling new life into old methods and systems.

Traveling is under a very suspicious aspect.

Publicity should prosper greatly. It is an excellent time to deal with writing, printing or verbal promotion and success in any of these lines, introducing new things and seeking customers are all under favor.

Great force is held to be exerted over those fields that demand combined ingenuity of brain and hand.

Persons of great energy are likely to be induced to demand extraordinary power for swaying and leading others. They must exercise self-restraint, however, lest they be carried too far.

Children of persons must be careful, too, lest they become so fiery in argument that they fall into passion and anger.

The day is singularly bright for the ill, as Mars in signs like today's is held astrologically to favor physicians and surgeons alike.

The planet also favors artisans, metal workers, soldiers, sailors, butchers, tailors, shoemakers, carpenters, engineers, wheelwrights, as well as all who labor with machinery or flame.

Persons whose birth date this is should strive during the twelvemonth to keep down the college and university, and when Sorenson tried to strike him. He downed the blow, however.

Detective Schme then took the three under arrest and they were taken to the police station in the patrol wagon.

HEAVY REGISTRATION AT "U" SUMMER SCHOOL.

The second day at the university summer school brought the registration up to 75, which is the largest the school has had for this time. Those in charge expect that the number enrolled easily will reach 100 before the end of the week. The greater part of the students from the state are endeavoring to make up the requirements of the state board of education. There are also many teachers from the surrounding states. In the school of physical education are students from all parts of the country.

Tuesday was devoted to the organization of the classes and today the regular instruction, as well as the work in the laboratories, begins. All the professors from the colleges and universities have arrived. Dr. Richard G. FIGHT IS MADE AGAINST
CHRISTENSEN AND EATON

Former's Increase Opposed on Economic Grounds; Eaton Opposition Personal.

The city board of education, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, granted increases of salaries to the city superintendent of schools, principal of the high school and the principals of the elementary schools of the city. All the increases are in keeping with the advances heretofore made.

City Superintendent of Schools D. H. Christensen was re-elected for the ensuing two years by a unanimous vote. The question of increase of his salary from $1000 to $1500 per annum met with some opposition from Mr. Martin, Mr. Newman and Mr. Glaque, solely from economic standpoint and not on personal grounds. They argued that the board could not afford at this time to make such a large increase. Mr. Martin moved to increase the salary to the recommendation of the committee on teachers and school work that the salary be increased from $1000 to $1500.

Mr. Newman moved to amend the vote of 4 to 4, Mr. Martin, Mr. Glaque, Mr. Newman and Mr. Barretto voting in favor of the increase. Mr. Martin moved to amend the vote against the amendment, so that it was lost anyway. The motion to increase the salary to $1500 then was carried by a vote of 5 to 3, Mr. Martin, Mr. Newman, Mr. Newman and Mr. Martin voting against it.

Eaton Opposition Personal.

The board went into committee of the whole to consider the salaries of the principals of the schools. The question of the salary of the principal of the George A. Eaton of the high school, from $3000 to $3500 per annum, was taken up first. Mr. Newman and Mr. Martin opposed the increase on personal grounds, claiming that Mr. Eaton was not entitled to an increase at all, on account of his record. They claimed that he was too extravagant and had failed to obey some of the orders of the board.

Mr. Glaque moved as an amendment to the salary of $3500, that he be placed at $3200 instead of $3500. The amendment was lost by a vote of 3 to 4. The motion to increase the salary to $3500 was carried by a vote of 5 to 3, Mr. Newman, Mr. Martin and Mr. Glaque voting against it.

Elementary Principals Raised.

The salaries of the principals of the elementary schools was increased from $1000 to $1200 per annum as follows: Mary Dwyer, $2050; P. N. Poulson, $2050; E. S. Hallock, $2050; W. J. McCoy, $2050; J. H. Coombs, $2050; Evelyn Brown, $2050; J. Stearns, $1800; D. R. Coombs, $1800; E. E. H. Scott, $1800.

The following new teachers were appointed: Sadie Rosser, May Taylor and Helen Boxrud.

The board awarded the contract for installing the heating plant at the Waterloo school to Davidson & Harris on
